THE BRITISH ATTACK.
ENEMY REINFORCED.
STUBBORN FIGHTING.

LONDON, Nov. 28.
Field-Marshal Sir Douglas Haig reports: Local attacks at dawn in the neighbourhood of Fontaine-Notre Dame and Bourlon villages led to severe fighting. The enemy, strongly reinforced, contested our advance with great stubbornness. The fight swung backwards and forwards. We advanced our line and took over 500 prisoners.

We drove off in the afternoon an attempted attack on our position on the Hindenburg Line on a spur westward of Bourlon. There was great activity on the part of the enemy's artillery eastward and north-eastward of Ypres.

FIGHTING IN THE AIR.
During the night, Sir Douglas Haig reports: Low flying and high on Monday, enemy aircraft were constantly attacking our troops, but they were repulsed. Over three tons of bombs were dropped on crossings over the Senne River, but no damage was done.

FRENCH FRONT.
A French communiqué, issued on Tuesday afternoon, stated: "We carried out a successful local operation last evening north of Hill 344, on the right of the Meuse, and reduced an enemy stronghold, thereby fully completing the gains which we obtained on Sunday."

GERMAN STRATEGIES.
A wireless German official message states: Strong English attacks between Bourlon and Fontaine-Notre Dame. Bitter local engagements are progressing. The enemy is being repulsed.

BOURLON.
The correspondent of the United Press Association, telegraphing from the British Headquarters in France, says: Furious local attacks and counter-attacks, some in the darkness, have been delivered on our front. We launched away early this morning into the northern portion of Fontaine-Notre Dame, between Bourlon and Cambrai. Attacking from the direction of Bourlon Wood, we drove the Prussians back by bayonets and bombs into the southern portion of the village. Snow and rain fell during the attack.

EXPENDITURE OF MAN-POWER.
Mr. Joseph C. Woodrow, D.S.O. (Liberal member for Newcastle-under-Lyme), who has taken part in the war in Flanders, Gallipoli, and East Africa, has given notice that he will move that it is the Government's duty to exercise the greatest care to ensure that the expenditure of man-power on the battlefield shall not be out of proportion to the results, and that when doubt exists an inquiry should be ordered, with civilian representatives.

GRIME WAVE IN GERMANY.
An Amsterdam message states that a wave of crime is passing over Germany. There has been an enormous increase in juvenile theft, owing to lack of food.

AMERICANS HONOURED.
The French Government has conferred the Croix de Guerre upon 15 Americans, but under the United States laws regarding the receipt of foreign decorations the recipients will not be allowed to wear these.

FRENCH CENSORSHIP.
The French Premier, M. Clemenceau, for the first time has allowed the publication of measured German communications.

CHAOS REIGNS.
GERMAN OFFICERS IN PETROGRAD.

LONDON, Nov. 28.
The "Daily Chronicle's" Harparand correspondent states that the non-Bolshevik Socialists and the Moderates of the Committee of Safety have issued a proclamation declaring the view that the Allied repudiation of the Bolshevik peace decree means the definite destruction of Russia, which will be forced to pray to the German Emperor for peace and for a grant from whatever territory and money he claims.

THE CHAOS REIGNS.
According to the "Nova Yashna" General, Alexiev, formerly the Russian Commander-in-Chief, has summoned M. Terentiev, M. Tchernov, M. Akhmetiev, and Admiral Vorokhovsky to headquarters for the purpose of forming a new Government. M. Lenin, head of the Bolshevik Government, and M. Trotsky, his Foreign Secretary, have appeared in Petrograd with undiminished intensity. The Italians are resisting successfully, and great French and British forces are arriving in splendid condition, ready to participate in the battle.

A DETERMINED ENEMY.
A message from Rome states that the Austro-Germans are bringing up a vast concentration of artillery in order to overcome the mountainous barriers protecting the Italian plains. During the last 24 hours the enemy has constantly attacked, and has been met with determined Italian resistance.

RENEWED VIOLATION ROUTED.
An Italian semi-official message states that the Austro-Germans, composed of troops of German extraction, and other enemy forces were severely beaten at Col Boretta. They made massed attacks after heavy drumfire. Their crushing superior fire and numbers enabled the assailants to penetrate the Italian line and to reach a mountainous battery, but fierce counter-attacks in the face of a violent barrage resulted in an enemy rout. Thus the attempted advance along the Val Sugana was frustrated.

IN ALBANIA.
An Italian official message on Tuesday afternoon stated: The enemy in Albania is in a state of confusion. Snow and rain fell during the attack.

REINFORCEMENTS.
CAMPAIN IN FULL SWING.

SOME people use the argument that we have done enough. Do they refer to the men at the front or to the men who have not gone? The men at the front have done too much; the men at home have done nothing.—Mr. Holman.

GRAVITY OF MILITARY SITUATION.
The Anti-conscriptionists are urging the people of Australia to let others fight for the preservation of their Australian homes and for the Empire, while they themselves remain safe at home attending to their own interests and neglecting their duty.—Sir John Forrest.

IF RUSSIA MAKE PEACE.
A separate peace by Russia will release 2,000,000 German soldiers a million Austro-German prisoners.—Mr. Holman.

THE FINAL MILITARY AND DIPLOMATIC STRUGGLE IS APPROACHING.
We Germans are the conquerors, and we have the right to see that our victory ensures our own future. Our future must be built up on the German development of power.—Dr. Stresemann, chairman of the German National Liberal party, in a manifesto dated today.

THIS IS A WAR TO SAVE LIFE—TO AVOID THE REPETITION IN AUSTRALIA OF THE HORRORS PERPETRATED IN EUROPE AGAINST WOMEN.
—Mr. W. H. Kelly.

CONSCRIPTION IN A VERY MODIFIED FORM, IN A VERY LIMITED PERIOD, IS NOW SOUGHT IN ORDER THAT PERMANENT CONSCRIPTION MAY NEVER BE INFLICTED UPON US.
—Mr. A. G. Balston, K.C.

IF WE TELL THE ALLIES IN THEIR HOUR OF EMERGENCY THAT WE WILL DROP OUT OF THE WAR WHAT THEY WILL SAY TO US IN OUR HOUR OF EMERGENCY?
—Mr. Holman.

SUPPOSE FRANCE HAD LISTENED AT THE BEGINNING OF THE WAR TO THE KIND OF COUNSEL THAT IS NOW BEING GIVEN TO US. DO YOU THINK WE WOULD HAVE HAD TWO YEARS TO MAKE UP OUR MINDS? LONG BEFORE NOW WE WOULD HAVE BEEN UNDER GERMAN RULE.
—Mr. Holman.

WILL VOTE "YES."
